AWAY DOWN IN DIXIE

Senator Hill is Having a Good Time.

A DAY AT BIRMINGHAM, Ala.

He Delivers a Speech at the Opera House and Afterwards Banquets by the Hill Club—Breakfast at Atlanta—En Route to Savannah.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 17.—On the train which brought Senator Hill to the city came the Hill clubs of Sheffield and Florence, and later in the morning clubs from Anniston, Montgomery, Gadsden and Tuscaloosa arrived. There were several hundred in all. The Montgomery club alone brought one hundred and twenty-five members.

It was 10 o'clock when Senator Hill rose. The committee appointed to escort him to breakfast found him with General McEwan and Mr. Midgeway in the parlor of the hotel. The committee were Colonel E. T. Talieferro, Dr. Charles Whelen and Colonel Hewitt, president of the Hill club, of Birmingham. Breakfast was served in the ladies' ordinary of the Caldwell House. At its conclusion Senator Hill returned to the Hill parlors, where he shook hands with a few leading citizens of Birmingham.

The senator was then escorted to O'Brien's opera house, where he delivered a speech to a large and enthusiastic audience.

Senator Hill said he did not attempt to disguise that this was a political trip, in the interests of any man or any set of men, but in the interests of the Democratic party. If this was a crime, then he was guilty. He reviewed the history of the Democratic party at some length. The essential difference between that party and all others was that it believed in a strict construction of the constitution.

Speaking of taxation he said that the Democratic party did not believe in closing the custom houses. It believed in taxation on imports, but only such taxation as was needed for the actual necessities of the government. In 1888 he said that the Democracy must nail the flag of tariff reform to the mast until the party was victorious. This was not the time to discuss whether it was wise to make that issue in 1888. It was enough that that question was understood now.

Senator Hill spoke for an hour.

At the conclusion of Senator Hill's speech there were loud calls for Mr. Ridgway, and in response to them he spoke briefly of Senator Hill's political career. He spoke of the endorsement of Mr. Hill at the Albany convention, and said that the country must not be misguided by a few disgruntled Democrats who were ready as before to ally themselves with the Republicans.

Colonel Taliaferro spoke briefly. He said the endorsement of Mr. Hill at Albany was the white cap on the first wave of tide in the affairs of Democracy which would land David B. Hill in the president's chair.

At the conclusion of this speech the committee escorted Senator Hill to the Caldwell House, where a pleasant surprise was awaiting him. A souvenir silver spoon of generous proportions, appropriately fashioned, reposed in a satin case in his parlor, the gift of the citizens of Birmingham.

About 3 o'clock the senator and his party and some prominent citizens of Birmingham sat down to dinner at the Caldwell House. An hour later the senator held a public reception in the parlors of the hotel which had been decorated with plants and flowers for the occasion. For half an hour the senator shook hands with the people of Birmingham. Then he retired to his room for a little rest in preparation for the banquet in the evening.

The dinner given to Senator Hill last night was an informal affair. It was tendered by the David B. Hill club, of Birmingham, and was given in the dining room of the Caldwell House. Seventy-six sat down. Senator Hill sat in the place of honor at the right of Colonel Hewitt, the president of the Hill club. On his right was J. P. Tillman. At one end of the horseshoe sat B. L. Hibbard, of Birmingham, with Mr. Ridgway, and at the other end, Frank P. O'Brien, of the Birmingham Age-Herald, with General McEwan.

The guests sat down at 9 o'clock and remained at the table for two hours. There were no formal toasts and no speeches.

After the banquet Senator Hill and his party were taken in carriages to the Richmond and Danville railroad station, where they took the 11:30 train for Atlanta.

Takes Breakfast in Atlanta.

ATLANTA, March 17.—Senator Hill and party arrived here at 6:30 o'clock this morning, over the Richmond and Danville railroad, and was met at the depot by a committee of prominent citizens and welcomed to the city. After breakfasting they started for Savannah by special train tendered by the Richmond and Danville road. They are due in Savannah at 3:40 this afternoon. Senator Hill will be the guest of honor at a banquet to be held there tonight.

Center of Population for Sale.

GREENSBURG, Ind., March 17.—The owners of the farm on which the monument commemorating the center of population stands is advertised for sale at less than the appraised value for taxation purposes. It is alleged that other farms in this county have been uppraised in excess of what they were sold for within two years preceding the appraisal. It is also charged that the "monument farm" is being sold because of the increased appraisal. In this city the major part of property was appraised at about one-third of the selling price.

THAYER-BOYD CASE.

The Governorship of Nebraska Finally Settled by the Supreme Court.

OMAHA, March 17.—The supreme court at Lincoln yesterday called up the case of the state ex rel. Thayer vs. James E. Boyd, and on motion of Governor Boyd's counsel confirmed judgment and dismissed the case at Thayer's costs. This practically ends the case. The court might allow it to be reinstated, but no steps have been taken in the matter of applying for such a procedure, and none likely to be taken. Thayer says his Texas interests occupy all his time.

In the event that the case was again taken up Governor Boyd would continue to act and it would be impossible to secure a decision before his term of office expires. This removes the greatest inducement they could have for continuing the fight. The Republican politicians are averse to keeping the fight up, and Thayer can hardly go on without their aid and sympathy. In political circles the case is at end.

Chicago Made His Fortune.

VALPARAISO, Ind., March 17.—Negotiations are about to be consummated for the sale of the Cline tract in Lake county. The land lies between East Chicago and Tollerton, and extends from the Calumet river to Lake Michigan. It includes nearly 3,500 acres of barren sand land, but the purchase price is understood to be $1,500,000. The Baltimore and Ohio, Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago, and the Lake Shore and Michigan Central roads intersect the tract, in the center of which is the embryo town of Clarke. The sudden rise in values of Lake county land has made George T. Cline a millionaire. Ten years ago, and even five, this land could have been purchased at $3 per acre, and Cline would have gladly entered into negotiations to have sold the entire tract at that figure. The rapid growth of Chicago made his fortune.

AKRON, O., March 17.—Infirmary officials made a terrible discovery Wednesday morning in Lakeside park, a resort just south of Akron's corporate limits. Mrs. Alfred Crook, lying on a bundle of loose straw in the corner of a room at her home, was dying of starvation, her husband having refused to provide for her.

She was reduced to a skeleton and so weak she could scarcely move her hands, and it was impossible for her to rise. She will die from the effects of starvation and exposure. Her husband, who has property and has been boarding away from home, will be arrested.

The Chief Witness Dead.

LONDON, March 17.—Dr. Tidy, the eminent analyst for the government, who testified for the prosecution in the case against Mrs. Maybrick, on the trial for poisoning her husband, is dead. The testimony of Dr. Tidy as to the nature of the poison administered and the effects shown in the analysis of the stomach and other organs, had a great deal to do with securing the conviction, and his death removes an important, if not essential witness, in case the home office should see fit to reopen the case for investigation.

La Grippe Victim Suicides.

BOSTON, March 17.—Thomas F. Ingoldsby, father-in-law of Congressman O'Neil, committed suicide at his home, 28 Seneca street, yesterday afternoon by cutting the arteries of his wrist and his jugular vein with a razor.

Temporary insanity, resulting from la grippe, is assigned as the cause of the act. The deceased was sixty years of age, and had been engaged in the clothing business in Boston for several years. He leaves three sons and one daughter.

Investigating the Books.

GREENSBURG, Ind., March 17.—The county commissioners have contracted with experts for an investigation of the books of the county. No charge is made against any county officer or ex-officer by reason of the investigation. It is claimed that there is quite a sum of money due the county from the state.

But Few Congressmen on Duty.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Between thirty and thirty-five members of the house are on the sick list, although none are seriously ill. A roll call of the hours yesterday developed the fact that over forty members are "paired" and away from their desks. This is an unusual number.

Congressman Stone Paralyzed.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 17.—It is reported here that Congressman Stone, who is at Eureka Springs, Ark., undergoing treatment for his health, suffered a paralytic stroke this morning. No confirmation of the report can be obtained.

Would Rather Be Dead.

CANTON, O., March 17.—Young Selet Shutz, who attempted suicide by cutting his throat in the presence of Mrs. Belle Snyder, with whom he was infatuated, is much better and will probably recover. He expresses regret that the act was not successful.

Elliott Jury Out.

COLUMBUS, O., March 17.—Ex-Prosecutor Huling, for the state, closed the argument in the Elliott murder trial at noon. At 2 p.m. Judge Duncan read the charge to the jury and they retired, but have not yet returned a verdict.

Will Give a Bonus.

CARROLLTON, O., March 17.—A vote to tax the town for $10,000, which will be given as a bonus to the Carrollton Clay company, carried by an extraordinary majority, only fourteen votes being cast against the proposition.

Dropped Dead at the Supper Table.

TIFFIN, O., March 17.—Mrs. Patrick S. Whalen, a highly respected lady, residing in this city, dropped dead of heart disease while sitting down to supper last night. She was aged about fifty years.

MURDERS MOST FOUL

Horrible Story of Crime Comes from Liverpool, England.

IT MAY BE JACK THE RIPPER.

The Arrest of a Man in Australia for Murdering His Wife Leads to the Fact That He Had Previously Murdered His Entire Family in One of the Suburbs of Liverpool.

LONDON, March 17.—A tragedy unparalleled in the history of British crime has just come to light through a most singular chain of circumstances. In July last a man named Arthur Williams resided in the Dinhamb villa in Rain Hill, a fashionable suburb of Liverpool. Not much seems to be known about the antecedents of Williams. He seems, however, to have been received in society, and passed as a well-to-do bachelor. He courted Miss Mather, a young woman generally admired for her beauty and other attractions and recognized as a local belle. They got married and went to Australia, where they were supposed to be living happily.

The people of Rain Hill were shocked a few days ago by the news from Australia that Williams had been arrested there on a charge of murdering his wife, and that he had concealed the body of the murdered woman beneath the fireplace, carefully covering the place again with cement. There the authorities had unearthed the remains.

As soon as these facts became noised about in Rain Hill the people called to mind queer suspicions that had been afloat about Williams when he occupied the Dinhamb villa. They remembered that one day a lady and two children had visited the villa to see Williams, and from the moment of their entering the place no one had seen them again.

The affair caused some remark at the time, but nobody thought of murder and the matter was dropped with the supposition that the lady and the two children had gone away without being observed. Now, however, the neighbors began to suspect that there might have been foul play, and they determined to state the facts to the police. The police concluded that no harm could be done by investigating, and they proceeded to the Dinhamb villa yesterday, and began to dig up beneath the fireplace. They noticed, as they began, signs that the place had been disturbed within a comparatively recent period, and certainly since other work had been done in the interior of the villa. They hardly expected, however, to discover anything, and their amazement was great when, shortly after they had removed the outer covering, they came upon the bodies of two children. The body of one child indicated that the little one, when killed, was about seven years of age, and the other was apparently about five years of age. Both bodies were wrapped in a damask table-cloth, and both had their throats cut. The remains were in a fair state of preservation, and neighbors who had seen the lady and the two children at once concluded that these were the children.

The digging then proceeded with greater energy than before, and the searchers soon came upon another body. This, upon being unearthed, was found to be a woman. The throat was also cut, and the body wrapped up before interment. It was said to be that of the lady who had accompanied the two children. The police kept digging, while the news spread and the excitement grew, and thousands rushed to the scene of the tragedies. A new force of police was called upon and a cordon established around the villa. It was now waning toward evening and the digging proceeded rapidly, for rumor grew on rumor, and other recollections suggested that there were some victims in the sepulchre beneath the fireplace.

The next body unearthed was that of a girl of twelve years. Unlike the former victims she had evidently been strangled, and it was evident also that her death probably antedated that of the lady and two children. The girl's body was removed and the search kept up. A baby about one year old and with its throat cut, was reached next. Even the hardened policemen could not restrain an exclamation of horror as the tiny and shrunken body was lifted up to view.

Up to this hour no more discoveries have been made. The news has caused almost a frenzy in Liverpool, and the multitude have rushed to the conclusion that Williams must be Jack the Ripper. There is no known evidence, however, to sustain this theory, as the victims were not mutilated otherwise than stated above. At least, such is the statement of the police.

The people in Rain Hill believe that the woman and two children who disappeared upon visiting the villa, and whose bodies were undoubtedly among those discovered yesterday, were a former wife of Williams and their two children, and that Williams had got them to come to the villa for the purpose of getting rid of them in order that they might not be in the way of his marriage with Miss Mather. This, however, is only an impression based on the circumstances. At the time of the murder of Miss Mather, the wife whom he went to Australia with, Williams and his wife were in Melbourne, and it is there he is under arrest.

Two Children Scalded to Death.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., March 17.—Two children, aged five and two years respectively, daughters of Thomas Price, were scalded to death yesterday morning. A boiler of hot water, standing on the stove, was accidentally overturned. The younger child died within an hour, but the other suffered untold agony for several hours.

Injured in a Dynamite Explosion.

GREENSBURG, Ind., March 17.—Will Winchester, while preparing a dynamite charge to "shoot" a gas well yesterday, was terribly injured by a premature explosion. One arm and his nose was blown off, and there were other injuries.

Inspecting the Navy.

NEW YORK, March 17.—A special to The Herald from Buenos Ayres says that President Pellegrini and a member of the cabinet visited Admiral Walker's squadron at La Plata Monday. They invited Admiral Walker in turn to inspect the Argentine navy.

London Miners.

LONDON, March 17.—The London conference of miners adjourned without action. A large majority are in favor of resuming work on next Monday.

MARINE DISASTER.

Norwegian Brigantine Wrecked and Ten Lives Lost.

LONDON, March 17.—A fearful marine disaster is reported from the Isle of Wight. The Norwegian brigantine Gudrun, commanded by Captain Tonnesen, has been wrecked at Totlands, near the western extremity of Wight, and not far from the famous Needles Rocks. The Gudrun hails from Norway, and has been sailing about to any part of the world where a profitable cargo was offered. The Gudrun sailed from Bahia, South America, on Jan. 8, for Pensacola, Fla., arriving there Feb. 19, and then started for Great Britain.

The brigantine is said to have run on the rocks while making for Southampton by way of the Solent. Before assistance could arrive ten of the crew perished. They are said to have been mostly, if not all, Scandinavians. It is said that the Gudrun had no real business at Pensacola, but called there to get clearing papers from a port other than a Brazilian, as there is a strict quarantine in Great Britain against vessels from several ports in Brazil.

Shipwrecked Sailors Saved.

LONDON, March 17.—The Norwegian ship Eren has been wrecked at Newhaven, on the Sussex coast. The crew were saved by rocket and life line. The crew of the schooner Yeo, which grounded at Padstow, Cornwall, were rescued by the lifeboat service.

OUR HELP TO THE STARVING.
Arrival of the Steamer Indiana at Libau, Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 17.—The steamship Indiana, which left Philadelphia Feb. 22, loaded with flour and provisions for the famine-stricken peasantry of Russia, arrived at Libau yesterday afternoon. The steamer was greeted with cheers and waving of flags from the crowds on shore and in small boats when she came into the roadstead at 2 o'clock. The Russian cruiser Strasch saluted and manned the yards, and the officers and crew were led by the captain in repeated cheers for the United States. The officers of the Indiana were taken aboard the cruiser, where they were met by Consul Crawford from St. Petersburg, and Consul Borinholz from Riga.

After the naval band had played the Star Spangled Banner the captain of the Strasch made a speech of welcome, in which he dwelt upon the friendly relations which has always existed between Russia and the United States and the generosity of the American people. Consul Crawford replied. There was a dinner at which the healths of the president and the czar were drunk, after which Consul General Crawford returned to St. Petersburg with two of the Indiana's officers.

BELGIAN MINE OWNERS.

Some of Them Fail to Make a Fortune in London.

LONDON, March 17.—There was an exciting scene in the Coal exchange Wednesday. It became apparent that the pinnacle had been reached in pushing the price of coal, and everybody was waiting to see who would strike the keynote for the down grade movement. At length one of the leading firms offered coal at four shillings under the ruling price. It was as if a firebrand had been cast into the crowd. There was a wild rush to follow the leader, and coal took a rapid fall.

The representatives of Belgian mine owners, who have flocked in dozens to the city to take advantage of the situation, are going back to Belgium disgusted. They find that the miners' stoppage has not made London a gold mine for the continental producers.

Newly-Married Man Selts Out.

WOOSTER, O., March 17.—Two weeks ago Miss Fanny Griest became the bride of Silas Potter. Today she is a deserted bride. They came to this city together, when Potter left her under the pretext of attending to some business in court. It turned out that he went to the house, packed his valuables in a grip and left for parts unknown. Mrs. Potter can not think of any reason why he should have left her, unless because she refused to allow him to handle her money.

Suicide at the Bath.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., March 17.—W. C. Trunkey, a prominent attorney of Warren, Pa., and a son of the late Judge Trunkey, of the state supreme court, committed suicide by hanging in the Turkish bath parlors of the Tod House. Trunkey came to the Tod House ten days ago suffering from liquor, and has been under the care of a physician. He leaves wife and family.

Horse Trainer Skips Out.

LAPORTE, Ind., March 17.—Late last night Charles Kennedy, a horse trainer, employed by Orr & Cram, who came here highly recommended by Bud Dobie and the Fashion stock farm, of New Jersey, decamped with nearly $50 of the firm's money, several borrowed sums, a gold watch and a valuable overcoat. Kennedy went east.

Injured in a Dynamite Explosion.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & McCARTHY,
Proprietors.

THURSDAY, MARCH 17, 1892.

GOVERNOR FLOWER, of New York, is acquiring a reputation as a vetoist.

It is pretty definitely settled that Mr. W. H. Cox will be one of the delegates from this district to the coming National Republican convention.

NICHOLAS COUNTY Republicans have instructed for Mr. Wm. H. Cox, of this city, and Senator Daum, of Bracken County, for district delegates to the National convention.

The indications are, that some of the lottery sharks of Louisville will soon be compelled to adopt a different style of wearing apparel, a style in which stripes will predominate.

MR. WILL HAVENS will assume charge of the Aberdeen Gretna Green in a few days. He has had several years experience in the business and can keep our bright new neighbor across the river up to its excellent standard. His friends welcome him back to this section.

SENATOR HILL takes great delight in reiterating, "I am a Democrat." And yet he said a few days ago "I have not yet learned that the Democratic party has any policy on any question." It's high time he was learning something about his party's policy on the great questions of the day.

"I AM a new Senator and I have not yet learned that the Democratic party has any policy on any question." These words were uttered by Senator Hill a few days ago. Nice man he is, to be running about trying to get the nomination of the party for the highest honor in the gift of the people.

HERE'S another straw showing the choice of the Democratic rank and file for President. At Stanford, Lincoln County, last court day, the Interior Journal says a party polled 244 men, and of that number 220 favor Cleveland, twelve favor Hill, nine are for Carlisle, one for Watterson and one for Flower.

The Winchester Sun's fond hopes have been blasted. It explains in the following: "We would like to see Grover Cleveland President, and have been hopeful all along, until now, that he would be nominated, but we find his prospects ruined. Sunday morning the Lexington Press declared itself boldly and unequivocally for Hill."

THE Goebel bill is now a law, the Governor having signed it, but twenty-seven of the policy dens at Louisville remained open yesterday. The courts can soon settle the sharks, if officers and jury will only do their plain duty. Sentence one or two of the lottery crowd to the penitentiary and see how quick the policy shops will close.

"THE Democratic House has already begun the work of retrenchment," says the National Democrat. "The estimates of appropriations for the District of Columbia were reduced $1,000,000 in round numbers, and the Military Academy bill, as passed the House, carries 20 per cent. less money than was urged to be appropriated by an extravagant administration." Let the work of economy continue. The country doesn't want any more billion-dollar Congresses.

SENATOR HILL was given a reception at Chattanooga the other night, and he no doubt regrets now that he made a stop in that city. A special says "the promised 10,000 people to meet him dwindled to about thirty business men." The special adds that "Cleveland's name was frequently mentioned by the crowd, much to Mr. Hill's chagrin." Mr. Hill consoles himself, no doubt, with the thought that Chattanooga will cut but little or no figure in the coming National convention.

THE Commonwealth's Attorney at Louisville was asked Monday what action would be taken against the lottery sharks. He replied that nothing would be done until the Governor signed the Goebel bill. "What then?" was the next question. "I will await instructions," was his reply. The courts at Louisville have been entirely too dilatory in the prosecution of this class of law-breakers. The Circuit Court of this county can find plenty of law to crush out policy dens and the courts at Covington and Louisville could do so too, if they were so minded.

Neuralgia Cured in Fifteen Minutes.
Mr. J. S. Sturtevant, editor of the Waupaca (Wis.) Post, says: "Last night Chamberlain's Pain Balm cured my wife of neuralgia of the face and tooth in fifteen minutes. We would not be without it." Fifty-cent bottles for sale by Power & Reynolds.

THE STATE LAW MAKERS.

New Bills—The Question of Mileage. Proceedings of the General Assembly.

Four new bills have been introduced in the House at Frankfort since last report, as follows:

An act to allow cities of the third class to issue funding bonds.

An act to provide cheap text-book.

An act accepting the donation of $25,000 annually from the government for the benefit of the A. and M. College.

An act amending the Statutes in regard to grand jurors.

A joint resolution was offered appropriating $750 to erect a monument to Joel T. Hart.

Mr. Collins' bill to reduce the mileage of members of the Legislature from 15 cents per mile to actual expenses, was reported adversely from the Committee, and was killed by being refused its second reading.

Among things in the order of the day was the resolution to authorize the Committee on Charitable Institutions to visit the various asylums of the State. The proposition had failed three previous times, but it went through without much opposition.

In the House yesterday Mr. Bashaw offered another resolution calling upon the Public Printer for information as to the actual cost of the State law reports—asking for the entire details. Mr. Bashaw and Mr. Dickson said that the reports in other States are purchased for $1.50, while in this State they cost $3. They thought the reports should be purchased in this State as cheaply as in any other State.

Mr. May's bill to authorize cities of the second class, which includes Covington, Newport and Lexington, to issue funding bonds to cover their floating debts, was passed unanimously.

Mr. Whitaker's bill to authorize the State to sue for taxes due was read a third time and passed.

Mr. Bailey's bill providing for a reduction of the sentences of well-behaved convicts was passed, but was afterwards reconsidered and sent back to the committee.

The bill changing the time of holding County Court at Brooksville, Bracken County, from the third Monday to second Monday was passed.

The two chapters of the Revisory Commission on the subjects of Constables and the Establishment of Eleemosynary Institutions, were taken from the orders of day and passed.

The Committee on Public Health reported favorably the bill on that subject drawn by the Revisory Commission.

SWINDLER CAUGHT.

A Philadelphia Diamond Dealer Has a Narrow Escape.

LANCASTER, Pa., March 17.—Mr. G. A. Livingstone, who represents a firm of diamond dealers in Philadelphia, has been cleverly swindled by a man who represented himself as a western cigar dealer of Denver. The man gave his name as B. C. Osborne, and he has been doing business in this city for several days past with our manufacturers. Osborne met Livingstone Tuesday, and entered into a contract with him to buy 2,000 watches. He showed a bank book containing a balance of $2,400 in the state bank of Denver.

Osborne received four gold watches from Livingstone and gave him a check on the bank for $400 to bind the contract. Livingstone did not suspect that contract was not genuine until yesterday, when the purchaser left for Philadelphia on an evening train. His suspicions were then aroused and he inquired into the man's business here, and also telephoned to the Denver bank and learned that the check was no good. The authorities at Philadelphia were notified and succeeded in catching Osborne.

For the Farmer.

Winter wheat in Illinois is reported in first class condition.

Frank Stahl, of the Washington neighborhood, has sold his crop of tobacco—about 12,000 pounds—to T. Buckley at 10 IQ cents.

It is thought now that prospects for a good fruit crop are better than before the late cold snap. The freeze will keep the buds back.

Tourists,

Whether on pleasure bent or business, should take on every trip a bottle of Syrup of Figs, as it acts most pleasantly and effectually on the kidneys, liver and bowels, preventing fevers, headache and other forms of sickness. For sale in 50c. and $1 bottles by all leading druggists.

The Charleston, Kentucky and Western project has again been revived, and $250,000 of the stock has been subscribed. This is the road that Mt. Olivet hopes to get.

Near Washington, Penn., People.
Are not slow about taking hold of a new thing, if the article has merit. A few months ago D. Byers, of that place, bought his first stock of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He sold it all and ordered more. He says: "It has given the best of satisfaction. I have warranted every bottle, and have not had one to come back." Twenty-five-cent, 50-cent and $1 bottles for sale by Power & Reynolds.

A Curious Clock.

A novel clock is now being exhibited by the Watchmakers' union in London. It is of wood, beautifully carved, and stands six feet in height. The case is a perfect fort in miniature, and instead of a bell and striking hammer the hours are announced by a bugler, who emerges from a door at one side of the fort and blows the call to assemble and march.

Almost instantly doors open on all sides. A regiment of automatic soldiers, six abreast, march out, wheel to the left, stop a few seconds to "mark time," and then march through another part of the fortress to the barracks. These marches and counter-marches occur each hour. If they come out to announce the hour of 1 o'clock, one soldier fires his tiny gun. At 2 o'clock two soldiers fire their pieces, increasing with the hour until the twelve leaders fire their guns, the rear ranks bowing their heads and pointing with their bayonets toward the dial of the clock.—Chicago Press.

One Regiment's Colonels.

Among the strange fatalities of the year there are none more noteworthy than those surrounding the colony of the Twenty-first infantry. In less than a year the regiment has suffered the loss of three colonels—Morrow, O'Birne and Conrad. We trust that the fated three break the spell, and that Colonel Jewett will continue in command until his retirement, March 31, 1898.—Army and Navy Journal.

The pickle industry near Pittsburgh has assumed enormous proportions. The largest shipment in this line ever made recently left Pittsburgh for a Kansas City firm. It filled eighteen refrigerator cars and included over 5,750,000 pickles.

At the Chicago university there will be four quarters, each consisting of two terms—six weeks in each term. A student will be allowed to choose any two terms in the year for his vacation.

Parisian thieves recently succeeded in stealing and getting safely away with an entire house and its contents. The building was a two story frame structure.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

THE MARKETS.

CINCINNATI TOBACCO MARKET.

[Tuesday.]

With break of good size, there was a generally better feeling than at the close of last week, and a firm market was shown, with prices more satisfactory to holders. The commoner and low grades, as of late, compose the main portion of the breaks, and for both new and old the demand was active at prices that were generally accepted. Common and medium leaf showed a good demand, and sold well. Good leaf, the number of which was small, was active at full price. No new grade offered.

The Masonic brethren of Aberdeen are rejoicing now in the possession of one of the handsomest halls in Southern Ohio. The work of remodeling and fitting up the old school building purchased a year or so ago has been finished.

AN OLD LANDMARK

The "Spalding House" to be Torn Away and Four Handsome Cottages to Take Its Place.

Another one of Maysville's old landmarks will soon be numbered with the things of the past. The "Spalding House" on the north side of Fourth street, west of Sutton, purchased a few days ago by Mr. Arthur Campbell, is to be torn down and four handsome frame cottages erected on its site.

The old building is perhaps the oddest-looking structure in Maysville. It occupies the angle formed by Fourth street and what was once the old road leading from this city to Washington before the days of the turnpike. It is a difficult matter to describe its architecture. It looks as much like a large, roughly constructed steamer's cabin, perhaps, as anything else.

The building was erected by the father of the venerable Daniel Spalding of Louisville. In a recent letter concerning the matter—giving the time when the house was put up, &c., Mr. Spalding says:

"The excavation was commenced in the fall of 1820; the building was finished in 1821, and on the 8th of October of that year we moved into it. The plan adopted was to fill the corner between Fourth street and the old road. Don't you see the fitness of things? Although father had ample ground to build any size square house, his architect advised him to stick the house on that beautiful corner. It was built expressly for a tavern, with the view of catching the customers as they came into town. He had a large sign with a beautiful golden spread eagle, but the travelers spread—they did not stop. They preferred going into town in place of stopping in the suburbs."

For years the old building has been occupied by colored folks, and the census enumerators and City Assessor have always been surprised when they figured up the number of people who claimed the house as their home. Judging by the returns, the occupants must be packed in at night pretty much on the sardine style.

The work of tearing down the house will be commenced this afternoon. Messrs. McDowell have the contract, and will also erect the cottages that are to take the place of the old structure. Much of the material will be used in the new buildings. The cottages will range in value from $800 to $1,200.

REV. JNO. NEWTON FORMAN sailed from India for this country the 23d day of February, accompanied by his wife, who comes to her native land for the benefit of her health, which has become very much impaired in the terribly hot climate of India.

MR. THELSTAN OWENS, of Washington, bought the four-year-old brown stallion S. T. at the Lexington sales this week for $115. S. T. is by Pactolus; dam by Harkaway. Horses have been selling low at Lexington the past few days, and Mr. Owens has no doubt secured a bargain.

THE Aberdeen Gretna Green says: "Mr. Harry Stevenson has gone to Madisonville, O., where he expects to engage in the clothing business. Harry is a popular young man of excellent habits and pleasant address. His thorough knowledge of the business assures for him financial success." He was formerly with Hechinger & Co. of this city.

JAHU DEWITT MILLER was greeted by a good audience at the High School last night, notwithstanding the fact that the weather was not at all favorable. He lectured on "Love, Courtship and Marriage," saying he thought that was a more appropriate subject than the one announced, "Casual Chats With Great People." His talk, like all his lectures, was entertaining and instructive.

WILLIAM J. THURMAN, a former resident of Washington, this county, but for many years living in Illinois, died at his home in Shelby County, that State, not long since. He was for many years postmaster and Magistrate at Washington, and enjoyed the confidence and esteem of all, for integrity and worth of character. He was a highly intelligent man, and a leading member of the Methodist Church. He came originally from Virginia, and was a cousin of Hon. Allen G. Thurman, of Ohio, to whom he bore a striking facial likeness. He practiced medicine after going to Illinois and was very successful, having fitted himself for that profession before leaving Kentucky. He was seventy-one years of age.

PUT HIM ON THE BLACKLIST.

Says the Daily Irontonian: "The last trip of the Telegraph up was rather interesting. Her pilot got a 'jag' on, and when they pulled out of Portsmouth, he headed her down stream and came near running her into the bank. Her captain got hold of the wheel in time to prevent an accident, but it was a narrow escape.

Pilot Argot, of this city, will go down on her to-day (Monday) as pilot in the place of her late pilot who acted so badly."

If the above is true, the White Collar line and all the other companies should put that pilot on the black list. The man who gets drunk is not a proper person to place in such a responsible position.

DESTROYED BY THE FIRE FIEND.

A Large Hotel Burned at Niagara Falls, the Guests Having a Narrow Escape for Their Lives—Refinery Fire at Philadelphia—A New York Village on Fire. Other Fire Losses.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., March 17.—Shortly after 10 o'clock yesterday evening fire was discovered in the boiler room of the Spencer House, one of the largest hotels in this resort. The flames spread rapidly, reaching the elevator and main stairway. There were only about thirty guests in the house, and they, with the regular boarders had narrow escapes.

The progress of the fire was so rapid that very little was saved. The loss will be over $100,000, covered by insurance. Mr. Burbank, the chief engineer of the Niagara Falls Tunnel Construction company, with his wife and child, occupied rooms directly over the fire. They made their escape down a ladder by a very narrow margin.

A REFINERY FIRE.

One of Spreckels' Kilns Damaged to the Extent of $200,000.

PHILADELPHIA, March 17.—Fire, which originated in one of the drying kilns of the drying house of the Spreckels sugar refinery yesterday, completely destroyed that building, causing a loss estimated at $200,000.

It is thought that some of the tar strings, used in tying the bundles of staves, became unfastened and fell through the opening and the combustion followed. The loss on the building and machinery, which were owned by the Spreckels, is estimated at $140,000, while that on the stock of barrels and staves, owned by Mr. Penneybacker, is placed at $60,000. The loss is almost covered by insurance.

VILLAGE VISITED BY FIRE.

AMSTERDAM, N. Y., March 17.—A fire shortly after midnight at Cranesville, a small station three miles east of this city, on the Central Hudson railroad, destroyed a wagon shop, a barn and several dwellings. Aid was asked of this city, but the chief of the fire department refused to send a steamer to the scene. There is no telegraph or telephone office in the village, and details or even the extent of the fire are not obtainable at present.

Elevator Destroyed.

GREENSBURG, Ind., March 17.—The elevator at St. Paul, belonging to Theodore Reed & Company, burned yesterday. The total loss aggregates $7,000, as the building and contents were entirely consumed. The firm carried $2,000 insurance on stock and $1,000 on the building in the Phenix, of Brooklyn, and $2,000 on the building and machinery in the Royal.

The Works Burned.

ANDERSON, Ind., March 17.—The Columbian encaustic tile works of this city were entirely destroyed by fire yesterday. B. O. Haugh and George Lilly were the principal owners. The loss will amount to $85,000, with $40,500 insurance, divided among a number of companies. One hundred and fifty people are thrown out of work. The works will be rebuilt.

People's Party and Prohibitionists.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 17.—The People's party and the Prohibitionists will probably not issue a joint call for a state convention until the last week in May. Both parties are to have conferences here that week. At the recent conference the only question of difference was on the suffrage question, and that difference was not serious. The Sherman House platform declares for universal suffrage in municipal affairs only. This is not broad enough to suit the Indiana Prohibitionists, and they so expressed themselves at the conference. The representatives of the People's party present expressed the opinion that 99 per cent. of those who will vote the People's party ticket are in favor of universal suffrage.

GAS MEN AND THE WORLD'S FAIR.

COLUMBUS, O., March 17.—The Ohio Gas Light association, in session here yesterday with 150 members present, endorsed the action of eastern gas associations in resolving to use their influence to prevent the $5,000,000 government loan to the world's fair unless the world's fair commission deals more fairly with the gas people, as between them and the electric light people. They claim that the commission has set apart a $1,500,000 to make an electric light display and not a dollar for a gas light exhibit. Worse than this, the location of the gas light building, built at private expense, is in an out-of-the-way place.

SHOT BY HIGHWAYMEN.

BUCHTEL, O., March 17.—Sam Juniper, a noted ex-convict and desperado character, and William Rush, both of Green's Run, were arrested Tuesday by Constable Thomas Kline, charged with the probable murder of old man Carr, near Jacksonville, last Saturday. Carr was returning home when two masked men stepped from cover, presented revolvers and demanded his money. He grabbed the masks from their faces and was shot twice. The desperadoes took to the hills. Carr says one was Sam Juniper and the other a stranger. At this writing Carr is not expected to live.

GO OFF EASY.

SPRINGFIELD, O., March 17.—Jno Wright, the prohibitionist who got shouting drunk while sitting in the Freeman murder case and shouted in court, was fined $50 yesterday for contempt. His drunk will necessitate a new trial and hundreds of dollars expense to the county.

MINERS FAIL TO AGREE.

BRAZIL, Ind., March 17.—The block and bituminous coal operators at a meeting held here attempted to abolish uniformity in the price of coal, the scale to be governed by the output.

ITALY AND THE UNITED STATES.

Friendly Relations Between the Two Governments Soon to Be Established.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Indications are that a resumption of the diplomatic relations between the United States and Italy, which were interrupted by the withdrawal of Baron Fava from Washington at the time of the massacre of Italians at New Orleans will shortly occur. It is not known that Baron Fava will return to the United States. Reports have been printed to the effect that he would be sent to some other post. The report that Minister Porter has received instructions to return to his post in Rome can not be confirmed at the state department. In fact, it is rather denied there, but the denials are assumed in some circles to be purely diplomatic.

One question remaining to be settled before the entente cordiale between the two nations is completely restored, is that of damages to the families of the victims of the New Orleans outbreak. It has been suggested that an appropriation to enable the state department to make a payment on this behalf will be inserted in the consular and diplomatic bill. The suggestion was received with favor by the members of the house committee on foreign affairs, to whom it was broached yesterday, and as the bill will be under consideration by the committee at its next meeting, the matter will probably soon be presented. Favorable action, it is believed, would presage the re-establishment of friendly intercourse between the two governments.

GUARDED BY THE MILITIA.

Murderous Tramps in Danger of Being Lynched.

TAMAQUA, Pa., March 17.—Policeman John Mergott, of this place, was shot and killed at Barnesville, a point just above here, Tuesday night, by three tramps he was trying to arrest for burglary. The tramps escaped at the time, but last night they were captured and lodged in the jail here. There is great excitement and threats of lynching are freely heard. The jail is well guarded. The three men who committed the murder have for the past few days been terrorizing the people at Coaldale, Lansford, and other points in the Panther creek valley, going about heavily armed and robbing stores and residences. The names of the prisoners could not be learned. Threats of lynching were so numerous that it was deemed advisable to keep the military on guard at the lockup until the excitement subsided.

WIFI CONTEST THIS WED.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 17.—On the 10th of this month Joseph Tivies, a colored man of this city, died leaving real estate to the value of $1,200 to his child, the offspring of marriage in this city some years ago. The will was about to be probated, when three colored persons, alleging that they were the children of Tivies, appeared in court yesterday and announced that they were the heirs and proposed to contest the probate of the will. They gave their names as Lizzie, Bessie and William Tivies, and say they came from Ohio, where their father once lived. Their story is that their father moved from Ohio to this city some years ago, leaving a wife and children, and that his marriage in this city was contrary to law.

RUSH IN THE COTTON FIELDS.

PORLTAND, Ind., March 17.—Matters are rushing in the oil field this week. The Haynes & Lupton, Billy Fields and Shevelton wells have all drilled in, and experts pronounce them good for 125 to 150 barrels per day. The Landabaugh and George Anker wells will come in before Saturday night. Wells have just been started on the A. E. Shirik and John Mann farms. A derrick is going up on the Mathias Shirik land, another three-fourths of a mile northwest of Bryant, and still another, owned by the Standard Oil company, on the Price farm. Rigs are also under way on the Jacob Ruple and Warner Hunt farms. A well has been located on the Thomas Black farm, and two south of Fling town, with more to follow.

SIGNIFICANTLY AND DEATH.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 17.—When Peter Petruna, a mine boss, was confronted yesterday by his wife whom he had deserted in Poland twelve years ago, he fainted. Petruna had married again and has five children. When the second wife heard of the circumstance she became insane, and, carrying her youngest child on her back, started to go crying through the streets. The child was found on her back dead from exposure. The first wife was aided in her search by a Greek priest, and hunted for her husband for twelve years.

ACQUITTED OF MURDER.

BRAZIL, Ind., March 17.—Without leaving their seats the jurors in the case of Robert Thresher, indicted for murdering Fred Williams, his brother-in-law, of Ashboro, returned a verdict of not guilty. In 1890 there was an altercation over $4 in the streets of Ashboro, in which Williams attacked Thresher, and the latter shot and killed his antagonist. Seven months previous to this affair Williams assaulted Thresher and nearly killed him in a quarrel.

DISCUSSING WOODS' NOMINATION.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The senate in executive session further discussed the nomination of Judge Woods until adjournment without reaching an action. The indications are that the discussion of this nomination will last over tomorrow, though the Republican members in favor of confirmation will try to force a vote then.

ENCOUNTER BETWEEN SOLDIERS.

LODGE, March 17.—A dispatch from Vienna states that an encounter has taken place at Wieliczka, in Galicia, between Austrian and Russian soldiers and that two Russians were killed. The affair is supposed to have resulted from a drunken row between frontier guards, but there is great excitement, and more trouble may come of it.

TIFFIN, O., March 17.—Thomas Downey, who was shot three times by Snyder, shows no signs of improvement. Burton Crobaugh shows marked improvement. Ed T. Taylor's wound is superficial. The bullet was extracted and he is all right. Recovery in such cases is always deemed uncertain, however.
